

CONTENTS

Taxes on Income

Chapter	Pages
I. HISTORICAL AND INTRODUCTORY	1—24
Introduction	1
Basis of liability	2—3
Concept of income	3
Determination of taxable income	4—6
Types of income exempt from income-tax	6—8
Rate structure of personal taxation	8
Exemptions and abatements of income-tax	8—9
Hindu undivided family	9
Non-residents	9—10
Corporate income	10—12
Insurance business	12—13
Excess Profits Tax and Business Profits Tax	13—14
Division of proceeds of tax between the Central Government and the State Governments	14—15
The Administrative Machinery	15—18
Evasion and Avoidance	18—19
Use of income-tax as an incentive	19
Statistics on income-tax	19—24
II. BASIS OF LIABILITY TO TAX	25—39
Present Indian law	25—26
Taxation of foreign profits	27—28
‘Resident but not ordinarily resident’ persons	28—29
Foreign technicians	30
Exemption of employees of international organisations	30
Criteria for determining residence; income criterion for companies	30—31
Remittance basis	32—33
Taxation of income resulting from ‘business connection’	33—35
Liability of the agent	35
Assessment through a ‘principal’ agent	35—36
Double income-tax relief arrangements	36—37
Need for bilateral agreements	37
Principles of the agreements	37—39

Chapter	Pages
III. TAXABLE INCOME—I	40—51
Introduction	40
Definition of 'income'	40—41
Capital receipts vs. income	41
Suggestions for taxation of individual items now treated as non-taxable	42—43
Casual and non-recurring receipts	43—44
Perquisites	44—46
Suggestions for granting special treatment to certain receipts	46—48
Suggestions for exclusion of certain receipts from taxation	48—49
Irregular and lump sum receipts	49
Suggestions for preferential treatment of certain types of irregular receipts	49—51
IV. TAXABLE INCOME—II	52—73
Introduction	52
Stock valuation	52—55
Existing statutory provisions for business deductions	55—56
Expenses wholly and exclusively 'laid out or expended for the purposes of' business	56—59
Expenditure remotely connected with the business	59
Expenditure incurred out of business expediency	59
Admissibility of certain types of capital expen- diture	59—60
Consideration of individual items of expen- diture	60—66
Deductions in respect of non-business income	66
TREATMENT OF LOSSES	67—73
Averaging of losses	67—68
Carry-back and carry-forward	68—69
Losses in the last year of business	69
Carry-forward of losses	69—71
Losses from speculation	71—72
Set-off of carried forward losses of a company	72—73
V. DEPRECIATION ALLOWANCES	74—85
Salient features	74

Chapter	Pages
Basis of depreciation: original and replacement costs	75
Revalorisation : case for and against	75—76
Problem of replacement in Indian industry	76—79
Method of depreciation	79—80
Unabsorbed depreciation and unabsorbed losses	81
Classification of assets	81
Additions to list of assets entitled to depreciation	81—83
Depreciation on leased property	83
Rates of depreciation	83
Group vs. item basis	83
Depreciation based on months of use	84
Modification of section 10 (2) (vii)	84
Depreciation of assets used in Part B States	84—85
 VI. TAXATION OF MINING INDUSTRIES	 86—97
Suggestions for amending the present law regarding mining industries	86
TYPES OF EXPENDITURE INCURRED BY MINING CONCERNS	87—90
Acquisition expenditure	87—88
Exploration expenditure	88—89
Development expenditure.	89
Method of amortisation	90—92
'Free method' of amortisation	92
'Revalorisation' of 'acquisition cost'	92
Depreciation on plant and buildings on the basis of the life of the mine	92
Summary of conclusions	92—93
Suggestions for safeguard against abuse of concessions	93
Other concessions sought	94—95
Depletion allowance	95—97
 VII. INCENTIVES TO DEVELOPMENT OF PRODUCTIVE ENTERPRISE	 98—103
Approach to problem of tax incentives	98—99
Scheme of 'development rebate'	99—100
Exemption of profits of new industrial undertakings (section 15C)	100—101
Scheme for modification of the present concessions to new industrial undertakings under section 15C	102—103

Chapter	Pages
VIII. SPECIAL TAXABLE ENTITIES AND RECEIPTS	104—131
Religious and charitable trusts and institutions	104—106
Assessment of trustees and guardians	106—108
Life insurance business	108—110
Mutual life insurance business	110—111
General insurance business	111—112
Re-insurance	112
Trade Associations, Chambers of Commerce etc.	112—114
Investment trust companies	114—115
Electricity undertakings	115—116
Hindu undivided families	116—120
Registration of firms	120—123
Co-operative societies	123—127
Salaries	127—128
Income from property	129—131
IX. THE RATE STRUCTURE	132—148
Developments in rate structure of Indian income-tax.	132—133
Some general comparison with other countries	133—134
The general case for higher income taxation	134
Considerations in formulating a rate structure of income-tax	134—136
Family allowance	136—138
Aggregation of income of husband and wife	138—139
Differentiation between earned and unearned income	139—140
Some illustrative rate structures	140—141
Partial exemption of savings and investment : abatements for life insurance premia and provident fund contributions	141—143
Suggestion for a scheme of 'surcharge-cum-compulsory deposit'	143—145
Rates of income-tax and super-tax	146—148
X. TAXATION OF CORPORATE INCOME—I	149—170
Introduction	149—150
Nomenclature of corporation tax	150
Suggestions for modification of procedure regarding taxation of companies	151—154

Chapter	Pages
Abatement of income-tax to shareholders	154—156
Suggestion regarding alternative procedure for taxing companies and their shareholders	156—159
Definition of 'dividend'	159—161
Bonus shares	161—164
Other suggestions for modification of definition of 'dividend'	164—166
Inter-corporate dividends	166—168
Rate structure of income-taxes on corporations	168—170
XI. TAXATION OF CORPORATE INCOME—II	171—188
Introduction	171—173
Suggested modifications in section 23A of the Income-tax Act	173—175
Suggestions for repeal of section 23A	175—179
Definition of 'substantial public interest'	179
Suggestions for alteration of definition of companies in which the public are substantially interested	179—180
'Reasonable needs of business'	180—181
Deletion of the 100 per cent. clause	181—182
Consideration of detailed suggestions for modification of section 23A	182—185
Application of 100 per cent. clause to investment companies	185—186
Practical difficulties in application of section 23A	186—187
Alternative methods of assessment and collection of tax on the 'deemed distribution'	187—188
XII. EVASION AND AVOIDANCE	189—210
Introduction	189
Estimate of leakage of revenue	189
Evasion and avoidance	189—191
External survey	191—192
Internal survey or exchange of information on record	192
Information from outside sources	192—193
Liaison with other tax departments	193
Anonymous information and rewards to informers	193—194
Collation Branch	194—196
SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT FOR INVESTIGATION INTO CASES OF SUBSTANTIAL EVASION	196—199
Income-tax Investigation Commission	196—199
Special Circles	199

Chapter	Pages
Legal powers for adequate enforcement	199
Back duty : section 34 of the Income-tax Act	199—202
Powers of entry and search	201—202
Punitive powers	202
Power to call for information	202—203
Disclosure of information in assessment records and publicity to names of offenders	203—204
Representation in income-tax proceedings	204—206
Voluntary disclosures	206—208
Collection of tax	208—210
XIII. THE ADMINISTRATIVE MACHINERY	211—241
Introduction	211
ASSESSMENT PROCEDURE	211—223
Estimated assessments	211—213
Delay in grant of refunds	213—214
Delay in completing assessments	215—218
Treatment of cash credits as income	218—219
Interference by superior officers in the working of Income-tax Officers	219—220
Insufficient time for compliance with notices	220
Public relations aspect in dealing with assessees	220—223
COLLECTION AND RECOVERY PROCEDURE	223—231
Extent of the problem of tax in arrears	223—225
Deduction of tax at the source	225—226
'Pay-as-you-earn' scheme	226—229
Provisional assessments	229—230
Recovery of taxes in certain special cases	230—231
APPELLATE PROCEDURE	231—238
Progress in the disposal of appeals	231—232
Administrative control over Appellate Assistant Commissioners	232—237
Non-official participation	237
Non-appealable orders	238
PERSONNEL, ORGANISATION AND METHODS	238—241
Adequacy and training of personnel	238—239
Suggestion for enquiry into organisation and methods of work	239—240
Income-tax statistical organisation	240—241
XVI. ESTATE DUTY	242—248
Position under Constitution of India	242
Estate Duty Act, 1953 : main provisions	242—245

Chapter	Pages
Gift tax	245—246
Appellate Tribunal	246
Payment of duty	246—247
Conclusion	247—248
Central Commodity Taxes
I. CENTRAL COMMODITY TAXES—A HISTORICAL REVIEW	251—260
Introductory	251
Share of commodity taxes in Central tax revenue	251
Evolution of import tariff	252—253
Contribution of import duties to central tax revenue	254—255
Export duties	255
Salt duty	255—256
Evolution of central excises	256—258
Contribution of excise duties to central tax revenue	258
Factors affecting revenue from excise duties	258—260
II. IMPORT DUTIES	261—270
Introductory	261
Possibility of increasing the revenue from import duties	261—262
The composition of trade and revenue from import duties	262—266
Import control	266
International commercial agreements	267
General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade	267—268
Commonwealth preference	268—270
III. EXPORT DUTIES	271—281
Introductory	271—272
Levy of export duties for revenue purposes	272—276
Anti-inflationary duties	276—277
Levy of export duties to stabilise prices of essential commodities	277
Levy of export duties for protective purposes	277—279
Relative importance of different types of export duties	279—280
Export control and export duties	280
Levy of export duties in other under-developed countries	280—281
Machinery for ensuring prompt adjustments in rates of export duties	281
Funding of proceeds of export duties	281

Chapter	Pages
IV. PROBLEMS OF ASSESSMENT IN CUSTOMS DUTIES	282—289
I. VALUATION	282—285
General factors determining valuation	282
Attempts at international standardisation of principles of valuation	282—283
Indian practice : section 30 of Sea Customs Act	283—284
Increased importance of section 30 (b) in recent years	284
Problems raised by increased importance of section 30 (b)	284
Need for publicity of methods of valuation	285
TARIFF VALUES	285
Definition and objects	285
Methods of fixation	285
III. TYPES OF DUTIES	285—288
Assessment of constituent parts at higher rates than those applicable to finished products	287—288
Facilities for processing and re-export of imports	288
IV. TARIFF CLASSIFICATION	288—289
Correlation of Import Trade Control Schedule and Indian Customs Tariff Classification	289
V. EXCISE DUTY ON TOBACCO	290—302
Importance of tobacco	290
Zones of cultivation	290
Pattern of consumption and organisation of production	290—291
Trends in consumption	291—292
Taxation Enquiry Committee's findings	292
Constitutional position	292
Imposition of the excise in 1943	292—293
Evolution of the tariff and the effect on revenue	293
Pattern of the tariff	293
Gradual increase in rates	293—294
Temporary relief in 1954	294
Working of the tariff	294—296
Flat rate of duty	297—298
Cigarettes—duty on the unmanufactured tobacco	298—301
Biri vs. cigarettes	301
Duty on manufactured products	301
Rates of duty	301—302

Chapter	Pages
VI. SCOPE FOR EXTENSION OF CENTRAL EXCISE DUTIES	303—317
Coffee	303
Motor spirit	303—304
Kerosene	304
Sugar	304—305
Matches	305—307
Mechanical lighters	307
Steel ingots	308
Tyres	308
Vegetable products	308
Tea	309
Cloth	309—312
Rayon or artificial silk fabrics	312—313
Cement	313
Soap	313
Footwear	313
Exemption or differentiation in respect of small- scale production	313—314
Possibility of extension of excises	314—317
VII. ADMINISTRATIVE PROBLEM IN REGARD TO CUSTOMS AND EXCISE DUTIES	318—326
PART I—Customs Administration	318—321
Introductory	318
Appellate procedure	318—319
Review of orders	319
Clearance of goods in disputed cases	319—320
Provisional duty procedure	320
Smuggling	320—321
Disclosure of information	321
PART II—Central Excise Administration	321—326
Appellate procedure	321
Systems of control in central excise	321
Manufactured articles	322—325
Unmanufactured articles	325—326
SUMMARY OF CONCLUSIONS AND RECOM- MENDATIONS	327—368
STATISTICAL APPENDICES	369—446
Statements relating to taxes on income	369—393
Statements relating to Central commodity taxes	395—446

